

Perfect Harmony with Trolls World Tour

At Southwest®, we are inspired by the destinations we serve. And each destination has its own culture, history, people and heart, giving visitors their very own unique experience. Through traveling to new places, you learn a little more about yourself while expanding your horizons and discover that, around the world, people are united together by common themes.

Southwest is proud to partner with DreamWorks Animation on their latest film, Trolls World Tour, an all-star sequel to the 2016 Trolls musical hit. In an adventure that will take them well beyond what they've known before, Trolls Poppy (Anna Kendrick) and Branch (Justin Timberlake) discover that they are but one of six different Trolls tribes scattered over six different lands and devoted to six different kinds of music: Funk, Country, Techno, Classical, Pop, and Rock. Their world is about to get a lot bigger and a whole lot louder.

"In Trolls World Tour, the Trolls discover that the music of their world is much more diverse than they ever imagined," said Walt Dohrn, director of Trolls World Tour. "Just like the many music-filled cities of our human world, they are on this incredible trip of discovery, uncovering new and exciting sounds that propel them on this heartfelt journey."

In creating Trolls World Tour, the filmmakers drew their own creative inspiration from destinations they came across in their travels. Nashville, with its strong local music community, helped provide the inspiration for Lonesome Flats, the home of the film's country music Trolls; and the filmmakers drew upon the palm trees, sunshine, and glitter of Los Angeles to create Pop Trolls Village, home to Poppy, Branch and their pals.

"We came to the realization that there are these different musical kingdoms in our own world," said Gina Shay, producer of Trolls World Tour. "New York City and classical music have this symbiotic relationship. You can hear classical music all over the city."

At Southwest, we aim to connect People to what matters most in their lives, as well as helping them discover new passions, new destinations.
