Let’s Kick It! Holiday Schedule and Soccer Game Flights Available Now on Southwest

Southwest Airlines® has extended its schedule through the end of the year, giving Customers an opportunity to book today at Southwest.com® for their holiday vacations and more, including exciting soccer games this summer. The carrier’s unique scheduling approach offers Customers several options to choose what fits their travel plans best.

Travel Friendly and Reliable to Holiday Fun
To align flight availability with demand and create the most options for Customers on highest-priority days, Southwest® has implemented seven unique schedules for November and December 2026.

More than 4,600 departures are scheduled across the Southwest network on Sunday, Nov. 29. The increase in service on one of the historically busiest travel days of the year gives Customers even more itineraries options when traveling home from holiday vacations.

New routes out for sale include seasonal service between Denver and Palm Beach, Florida and Fort Lauderdale, Florida and San Diego. New year-round service between Kansas City and San Francisco is also available.

Not Backing Down in O-Town
Southwest’s investment at Orlando International Airport continues to grow in late 2026 with up to 197 roundtrips during the highest-demand days in Orlando. Cities connected to Orlando on a seasonal basis include Detroit, Grand Rapids, Michigan, San Jose, California, and Salt Lake City.

Kicking Around the Idea of Seeing Soccer? Take Southwest to Do It
Accompanying its existing service in the 11 U.S. host cities for this summer’s world soccer tournament, Southwest has added 16 more flights for the following matches in five locations.
